

3-DAY MEET

CPYRGHT

Donovan To Address Inland Press

James B. Donovan, who negotiated the release of Cubans captured in the Bay of Pigs invasion, will speak Tuesday at the three-day winter meeting of the Inland Daily Press Assn. in the Drake Hotel.

DONOVAN

More than 300 executives of daily newspapers are scheduled to attend the meeting Sunday through Tuesday. Inland is the nation's largest regional association of dailies, with more than 500 member papers in 23 states and Ontario, Canada.

Other speakers include Clark R. Mollenhoff, Washington bureau chief of Cowles Publications, and Otis Booth, operations director of the Los Angeles Times.